Key Findings & Highlights

This NelsonHall vendor assessment analyzes Conduent's offerings and capabilities in CX Services Transformation.

Conduent positions its CX services as part of a larger front-office BPS where it provides outbound communication, print and document management, payments, and collections. At the same time, the company wants to simplify the CX services positioning and bring it forward in sales discussions with its enterprise clients. One approach is increasing Conduent's vertical market penetration, targeting healthcare, travel and leisure, mortgage and financial services, retail, and mid-market expansion.

Outsourcing clients looking for a CX services vendor with productized CX transformation offerings in knowledge management, training, WFM, and QA and a strong portfolio of sector-specific CX services should especially take note of this profile on Conduent.
