Key Findings & Highlights

Established in 1981, Infosys is an NYSE-listed global consulting and IT services company with over 343k employees. Infosys Wingspan, a Talent Transformation platform, is helping organizations across industries to navigate the new normal. The platform was created to collaborate with clients and ensure that their employees are engaged, constantly learning, and becoming resilient, even while working remotely. Infosys Wingspan is a next-gen, AI-powered talent incubator at its core. With its added generative AI capabilities, the platform will accelerate and amplify learning for every user.

Organizations who want an enterprise-grade, single platform, built using one code base, that brings the latest innovation: cognitive computing (using AI/ML and generative AI), gamification, reimagined pedagogy (five purpose-based ways to facilitate learning), learning analytics, AR/VR/MR, and smart classrooms, focused on skilling for the future, should consider Infosys Wingspan or Infosys Wingspan Lite.
